CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress,
Seventh Ohio District

American Army and Navy chiefs are carefully studying the detailed report of the heavy Commando raid made on Dieppe last week by combined British, Canadian and American forces. The raid, which was the largest and most thoroughly planned of any thus far against the European coast, was undoubtedly made in preparation for a later full scale invasion attempt. The Dieppe raid also created fear and consternation in the Axis ranks, and will no doubt result in the diversion of German troops and planes from the Russian front to strengthen their western European defenses. The United Nations forces have proven that an invasion of Europe is possible, even though costly. Axis generals, not knowing where or when the next raid or an all-out invasion attempt will come, are reported as being "down-right jittery." The Dieppe raid may well prove the turning point of the war.

Encouraging word has also been received from the other side of the globe. Official announcement has been made that American forces have driven the Japanese out of three of the islands of the Solomon group and have now strongly established bases which will be of great value in the protection of our supply routes to Australia and New Zealand; as well as for the defense of both countries, and as a springboard for further attack against the Japanese. Combined American and Australian naval forces are said to have outfought and driven off the Japanese fleet in the Solomon Islands engagement.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, last week, tossed a bombshell into the already explosive question of farm prices, when, in a radio address, he advocated repeal of the 110 per cent of parity price ceiling on farm products. Farm leaders insist that the 110 per cent of parity price ceiling is necessary to guarantee farmers an average return of 100 per cent of parity prices. They point out that farm prices fluctuate and vary widely, according to the seasons, and that to place a price ceiling on farm commodities at 100 per cent of parity, with farm products selling at lower prices at times of market glut, would mean an average income of much less than parity. At the same time many farm representatives have renewed the offer originally made when the Price Control Act was before Congress to accept a parity price ceiling on farm products, providing all wages and salaries are fixed on the same basis. However, they are protesting any law or government order limiting farm prices to 100 per cent of parity as long as governmental agencies are granting wage increases which result in many labor groups receiving pay as high as 250 per cent of parity. Chairman Fulmer of the House Agriculture Committee predicts a shortage of food in the United States and throughout the United Nations by the end of next year if the government continues its efforts to limit or reduce the prices of farm commodities while increasing industrial wages and the cost of everything the farmer has to buy. Already the War Production Board has ordered the Office of Price Administration to prepare for the rationing of meat. At the same time Department of Agriculture officials announce there are thirty per cent less cattle on feed in the United States now than a year ago. Livestock feeders and packers insist ceiling prices on finished beef are so low that profits have been eliminated and heavy losses are being sustained. Some stockmen and packers, recalling past endeavors of the Administration to amend present laws so as to permit the importation of fresh beef from Argentina, where hoof and mouth disease was prevalent, are predicting that the increasing beef shortage will be used as a reason and powerful argument for lifting the embargo against Argentine beef and permitting its sale in the United States.

Official results of the Congressional primary in the Seventh District, as announced by the Clark County Board of Elections, shows that the incumbent, Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, who had no opposition in the Republican primary, received a total of 17,879 votes in the nine counties making up the District. In the Democratic primary George H. Smith, of Greene County, received 4,

Gov. Bricker Names Committee To Study Gas, Tire Situation

Gov. John W. Bricker does not propose to let Eastern and Southern seacoast states congressmen force gasoline rationing on Ohio citizens just because a few states must depend on coastal shipping of gasoline. More over there is no gasoline shortage in this state and has not been. Hundreds of filling stations have closed because there was a greatly reduced automobile travel and no sale for either gas or oil. Most stations handle automobile tires and this business was lost.

Congress is making no headway in the rubber situation and while the public hears little about it New Dealers are fighting for supremacy in the synthetic rubber field. The government has stopped all interviews on this and other subjects by department heads on orders of Roosevelt.

Every New Deal department of the government including the Department of Agriculture is against the use of any and all farm products for the manufacture of synthetic rubber for automobile tires. Germany and Russia are fighting a war with the new kind of rubber made from oil and wheat.

Governor Bricker has named a committee of leading Ohio industrialists, chemists and engineers to make a survey of the situation. Ohio demands that synthetic rubber be made from all known products to give the automobile and truck owner new tires at as early a date as possible.

Ohio's governor proposes to act in behalf of the people while New Dealers fight as to who is to get the profit when synthetic rubber is made under government edict and of one certain material.

One of the slogans in the Ohio campaign this fall will be "Vote the Democratic ticket and walk for the Republic when synthetic rubber is made under government edict and of one certain material."

Physician Seeks

Medical Recruits

Maj. David Taylor, former Yellow Springs physician, is in the county on official business and visiting in Yellow Springs. He has been assigned to recruit 14 medical officers, two dentists and 30 nurses from the Dayton, Xenia and Springfield territory. The medical men will be commissioned as six first lieutenants and the dental officers will be commissioned a captain and a first lieutenant. The nurses as second lieutenants.

The Major has been in service 16 months and is being transferred to Camp Gruber, Okla., where the medical staff will undergo a period of training and then be sent to a hospital "overseas."

Six Aliens Are Given Examination, Tuesday

Six foreign-born residents of this county, including three "enemy alien" status, had their hearing for naturalization Tuesday in Common Pleas Court with Immigration officials in attendance. Four were from Xenia and two from Yellow Springs. All but one were granted naturalization papers. One question asked of one applicant was "Who is the Representative from this District to Congress?" The answer was "Dr. McChesney." It should have been Clarence J. Brown. Only four of the six applicants were granted naturalization papers.

Tuesday Coldest Aug. 25 In History

The thermometer hung up another new record Tuesday when the mercury dropped to 46 official while we are informed it was as low as 44 in some places west of town along the Masses Creek bottoms. The Cincinnati weather bureau reports Aug. 25 as the coldest in history.

Various reasons are given for the cold snap, the most common being the result of the full eclipse of the moon which changed weather conditions. The following night was clear as a bell and the eclipse was perfect in this part of the country.

County Lags On War Bond Quota

The quota of war bonds for Greene county for August was $157,000 and the sale so far is only about $53,000. According to Chairman Frank L. Johnson the quota is now about $75,000 short for the month.

NEAL HUNTER HEADS CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Attorney Neal Hunter, Jamestown, was re-elected chairman of the Republican county central committee at a meeting of the group at the Court House last Friday evening. Claude H. Chitty, Bowersville, was chosen vice chairman, and J. R. Kneisley, Osborn, secretary of the committee. Roy V. Hull, Xenia, treasurer.

The committee upon re-organization adopted a new method of formation of an executive by the central committee constituting itself as the party executive committee. This plan has been adopted in many counties and by the two dominant party states.

The same officers of the central committee were named for the executive committee. Eighteen of the twenty-four members were present. Hugh Turnbull of this place is the retiring chairman of the executive committee, being the nominee for county commissioner at the November election.

At a future meeting the central committee with the Republican candidates will name a campaign committee from each of the county precincts. The campaign will be under the direction of Chairman Hunter and the campaign committee.

Livestock Men Say Meat Ceilings Are "Cockeyed"

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Livestock producers Tuesday blamed "cockeyed" price ceilings on finished meats for the present meat shortage and asked the Office of Price Administration to revise its entire schedule.

"The present system of meat price control encourages the marketing of short-fod low-weight cattle and unless revised soon will force rationing of a reduced supply to consumers," a spokesman said.

A delegation of 19 livestock growers and feeders from the West and Midwest took their case to the OPA after a futile appeal to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard to oppose a ceiling on prices of live meat animals.

Mr. Wickard told the delegation that a price ceiling on live animals is a virtual certainty and advised the delegation to concern itself more with what kind of a program is to be adopted.

Marketing experts of the OPA and the WPB's office of civilian supply have been working on a plan for control of livestock prices. Agriculture Department officials expect the plan to be submitted to Wickard this week for his approval.

With the dropping of 110 parity prices of hogs will have to be priced about 11.5 for top hogs on the present cost of living basis. Industrial labor this week was granted another hourly increase of 6c an hour which would put hogs down to ten cents on the cost of living basis. Cattle prices are expected to be sealed between ten and twelve cents for top grade.

Months ago when Sec. Wickard and price Administrator Henderson disagreed over price control and the former recommended 110 instead of 100 percent parity, Roosevelt reminded the public and both officials that it should be kept in mind he could fire either or both. Congress and the farm bloc overrode Roosevelt who later vetoed the act bill. Congress has enough votes to pass the measure over Roosevelt's veto.

County Has Authority To Enforce Code

Under a ruling of prosecutor Marcus Shoup the County Commissioners have the authority to enforce the building code. Complaints have come to the commissioners and health officials that conditions around Wright View Heights, near Osborn, are unsanitary and that all kind of shacks have been erected by war workers.

Cane Circulated for Over 75 Years

The Ohio Conference cane has been in circulation among the retired Methodist ministers for the past three quarters of a century. It is held in succession by the oldest retired clergyman in the Conference. The historic cane was originally bequeathed by the Rev. D. Davidson to the old Cincinnati Conference, and since that time has passed through a dozen retired ministers' possession.

Today, it is held by the Rev. G. W. Dubois, the oldest retired pastor of the Ohio Conference, who resides with his son-in-law, Dr. C. M. Coffin of Xenia University at Gambier, Ohio.

Miss Anne Elizabeth Copeland, 10 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Copeland, members of the Waynesfield Methodist Church, near Wapakoneta, and a niece of Dr. Coffin, is admitting the unique cane in the photo, while visiting in Gambier. The names of the ministers who have held the Civil War Veterans Elect Rev. Hooper

Rev. W. L. Hooper, Columbus, was elected president of the Ohio Civil War Veterans' Association at the organization reunion at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home at Xenia, Saturday and Sunday.

Former vice president of the association, Rev. Hooper had been acting president since the death of Theodore Wells of Cambridge. Mr. Hooper also is Ohio Chaplain of the G.A.R. The delegation of veterans numbered 17, with about 1,000 members of affiliated organization delegates.

Thomas Ridenour of Crestline was named first vice president and Mrs. Katherine E. Sattler, Mansfield, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The group participated in a re-dedication of the home and also voted to ask that cannon and other relics of the Civil War be converted into scrap for the present war only as a last resort.

SOUTHERN CONFEDERATES ASK THAT STATUTES BE SPARED

The proposal that iron fences about public and private buildings and all private homes be junked for the war has not met a responsive cord. The fact that statutes represent much in history appeals to older citizens and the demand for war material must be found elsewhere for the present. The statutory of former war generals and other war relics is openly opposed in the south. Most every county seat town and southern city has one or more statues of Confederate war officials. New Orleans in particular has statues even of many of the earliest citizens and there are many that represent religious history.

Corn Cutters To Demand 25-30c Shock

How much will farmers have to pay for corn cutting this fall? The farmer would like to know what is to be the prevailing price. Those who have corn harvesters of one kind or another have no worry though it is a slow job with one man and a machine, trying to harvest several hundred shocks of corn.

The professional corn cutters inform us on inquiry that they will not cut corn this fall under 25 to 30 cents a shock depending on how heavy the corn is. This would be about ten cents a shock over last year.

If farmers are making as much profit as Roosevelt and Henderson say they are, the price asked is not unreasonable. Then again by paying a higher price for corn cutting and an increase for husking corn the farmer will be contributing to the New Deal plan of "keeping down inflation."

Already the cry is coming from the city consumers that eggs and butter are too high. Defense workers making $10 or $15 a day cannot afford to pay present prices for butter and eggs and here is another reason why the farmer under the New Deal must take less for dairy and poultry products.

Hugh A. Turnbull Died In Cleveland

Word was received here Wednesday morning of the death of Hugh A. Turnbull, 87, retired farmer, who died at the home of his son, Allen Turnbull 12,000 Brentwood Ave., Cleveland Heights, where he had made his home most of the past three years.

The deceased was born in Cedarville Twp., March 15, 1855, and was the son of John and Margaret Allen Turnbull. His wife, Mrs. Jennie Bird Turnbull died twelve years ago.

With his son he is survived by Charles G. Turnbull, a brother, and Mrs. W. L. Clemans, a sister. He was an uncle of Hugh Turnbull, who was recently nominated for county commissioner on the Republican ticket.

The body was brought to the McMillan Funeral Home.

The funeral will be held from the McMillan Funeral Home, Saturday.

NO COFFEE; PLENTY OF BEER

Cincinnati dealers in coffee put the lid on sales Monday last according to a resident from that city. Henderson forced all dealers to take a ten per cent cut in coffee for retail.

However, coffee can be dispensed with as long as the New Deal gives everybody all the beer they need.

LOCAL CITIZENS BACK COLLEGE FUND CAMPAIGN

Expressing their enthusiastic interest in the student self-help program of Cedarville College the following prominent citizens have endorsed the campaign for $15,000 in Cedarville, Clifton and vicinity for this project: Mayor O. A. Dobbins, Harvey Bailey, J. H. Creswell, Edwin Dean, A. B. Evans, A. S. McCoullough, C. L. McGuinn, Chas. Townsley, President of the Cedarville Progressive Club, Hugh Turnbull, Raymond T. Williamson and Harry Wilson.

The campaign for $15,000 cash gifts and subscriptions over 36 months is a part of the effort to secure $100,000 throughout the State of Ohio. It will be conducted under the direction of the following men: John Collins, William Hopping, Chas. Crouse, Clayton McMillan, George Hartman, Jesse Townsley, and Paul Edwards.

In commenting on the value of the program for young people John Collins expressed his confidence in the plan in the strongest terms. "The student self-help program of Cedarville College offers a very practical plan to help young people secure a higher education," Collins said.

"With the farm as the first step the college will be in a position to offer any student an opportunity to earn a part of his expenses. Coming at a time when our nation is demanding more and more trained men and women, I believe the communities will support this campaign for $15,000 in Cedarville, Clifton, and vicinity."

HORACE H. SMITH RETURNS TO U. S. ON GRIFSHOLM

Atty. Harry D. Smith is in New York City to welcome the return of his son Horace H. Smith who has been connected with the U. S. Diplomatic service in Shanghai. He was one of the 1,400 passengers on the Swedish exchange ship, Grifsholm. The Americans were exchanged for Japanese diplomats in this country and other citizens of that country.

Mr. Smith was one of the first to pass muster and get ashore due to strict regulations. It may require as many as three days to examine the passengers before permitting them to go ashore.

According to dispatches Smith says the Japs are going "to be tough to lick." He was interned Dec. 8th and held a prisoner until June 29th when placed aboard the ship. He was held at the "Metropole hotel" at first and later in the "Cathay mansions" He said he was well quartered but restricted as to movements. He says the Japs were courteous and there was "relatively little brutality among civilians."

Smith was liaison officer in Shanghai between the United States consulate and the Chinese government exchange stabilization board, the agency which controlled the value of Chinese currency. He entered the U. S. diplomatic service in 1929 and had been in the orient ever since except for two brief vacations, the last of these was in March, 1941. He goes to Washington to report after a visit with his wife and two daughters who are spending the summer in New Hampshire. After reporting he will come to visit with his father.

On the same vessel were Rev. Albert Ankeney, formerly of Beaver-creek, and wife, who have been missionaries in China, and who have also been under confinement due to the war. Mrs. Ankeney was formerly Miss Schneider of the college faculty.

DOSE ALREADY MIXED FOR FARMERS AND FEEDERS

Farmers certainly are aware by this time that they face the New Deal pruning hook and are to be forced under war-time powers to raise feed, grain and livestock just as the lowly peasants must bow to dictatorship under Stalin in Russia.

Radio and press say the labor leaders and New Deal Communists are determined to fix ceiling prices on all live stock and grain and make the farmer like it or not. Greene county farmers are to awake some of these days that some of their supposed friends on government pay roll will be drawn into public light as traitors to the farm cause and that the rural population is to be put under the thumb of official Washington just as every farmer in Germany, Italy and Russia is today.

With labor leaders getting increases daily from the New Deal the continued cry of inflation comes from Roosevelt headquarters and no one is to be held responsible but the American farmer.

If the time comes when the farmer is not to be accorded the same right and privileges as labor leaders in what we term free America, then the feeding of America will become a problem let alone the rest of the world as the Communists would have the farmer the offbearer of what humanity must have to exist.

WILL NEW DEAL LET SOLDIERS VOTE?

We boast of our own democracy and the rights and privileges each citizen enjoys. We boast how we elect our officials to govern us. Regardless of the fact we draft our young men, the flower of our citizenship, the generation that must carry on our form of government, yet we witness daily a pantomime display in Washington where the Southern Democrats fight to bar the vote of those whom we have inducted into the armed forces to fight for a so-called democracy abroad. The south imposes on each voter a poll tax before he can vote. Northern congressional leaders seek a way to make this impost illegal on draftees in service from the south. No "must order" has yet come from the White House for passage of this vote measure.

In the same connection the South still bars the count of votes of colored citizens. Colored citizens must have their own polling place. To keep them away the poll tax is enforced. If the tax is paid the colored gent (known best in the South as the Nigger), is required to explain a section of the constitution to the satisfaction of a white election judge. On this issue no protest has ever been uttered by the White House yet there are daily preachments about how we must defend democracy throughout the world and draft thousands of colored boys to face both Japs and Germans.

The vote proposal for our armed forces makes it possible upon passage for all to vote wherever they may be at home or foreign lands. The New Deal has never given the vote plan support. In fact it has been hinted the New Deal would do everything possible to make any kind of a vote in the army or navy impossible, fearing the boys will vote against the present administration. The Washington leaders also have reason to fear just how the parents of most of these boys will vote. The New Deal is not concerned about democracy. It is only the vehicle to ride Communistic ideas on this nation.

ANTHONY ELSASSER, MANAGER

The old line Thomas Jefferson Democrat must have suffered the agony when he read where the American Labor party consulted with Franklin D. Roosevelt, as to who that party should nominate in opposition to Attorney General Bennett for the Democratic governorship of New York. The American Labor party is the Communist ticket in New York and polls some 500,000 votes. The American leaders would not endorse the James A. Farley candidate, Bennett, whom the Roosevelt New Dealers tried to defeat for the nomination at the Democratic convention last week. It is reported Gov. Lehman will support Bennett but no public announcement has come from the White House that the New Dealers would do likewise.

That Farley controls the New York Democratic situation there is no denial. He will also control the next Democratic delegation to the National Convention in 1944, the very thing Roosevelt was bidding for at the Convention last week. The situation has given the New Dealers a very serious thing to worry over. They know they can never shake the Farley hand because Farley stands by his party and does not show a tinge of Communistic trait. His hands are not soiled in any manner in war contracts and no one ever heard of him betraying his party trust. He is a Democrat of the old school, clever but honest in politics. He has done for Bennett just what he did for Roosevelt as Governor of New York and President.

The New York Republicans nominated Thomas E. Dewey for governor at the state convention Monday. The New Dealers thought they could whip up a campaign of popularity for Wendell L. Willkie. The Republicans are done with the Willkie brand of Republicanism, a mixture of Jeffersonian Democracy, Socialism of the Debs brand, Russian Communism, IWW and CIO. Willkie sees the handwriting that New York Republicans were cold to his platform, found an excuse, and with New Deal government finances in Russia bound to talk over the war with Joe Stalin, the World god of Communism. Willkie is no longer regarded by Republicans as a member of that party and strictly speaking never was a member, just an opportunist candidate of the utility crowd that tried to unload their candidate unwittingly on the people.

Louis Rock, head of the Dayton Journal and Herald, World War Veteran, followed his convictions and has enlisted for the duration. If supporting the war from the day England and Germany drew swords Walter Locke of the Dayton News, could follow the example set by his fellow-townsmen. Broadcaster Hessler, Cincinnati, is just the right age to render war service in the front ranks, but he prefers a congressional seat away from the shot and shell.

The coming November election is holding up a lot of things in Washington. For instance rationing of gasoline in Ohio. Governor John W. Bricker has named a committee of prominent citizens to investigate the gasoline and rubber situation in this state. With storage tanks full and pipe lines delivering more gasoline than stations can sell, the ration plan for Ohio is unnecessary. There will be less tires of all kinds for September according to Henderson. The New Dealers are excited over the farm situation and the reaction to lower priced livestock for farmers. There are a lot of problems that will not be settled until after the November election, especially a federal sales tax of 10 per cent.

If a newspaper would direct as many sharp questions to the New Deal over various governmental policies and especially the war as do some of the radio commentators what would happen? Last week a federal jury refused to indict two reporters of the Chicago Tribune for telling the truth following the Pacific attack and how Japan was lined up. This enraged Sec. Knox, who owns the Chicago News, and governmental fire was directed at the Tribune. When the story was told in the Tribune and also given to other newspapers free, it created a hit and was ahead of all government reports for accuracy. Imagine a reporter in the thick of the Pacific fight being indicted for telling the truth weeks after the conflict ended. It was but using the machinery of government of one publisher trying to put the back of his competitor on the floor. It was the old "stab in the back" method.

According to war time laws no newspaper or broadcasting company can give the public the whereabouts of the President as Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy. We do not recall any such event during the First World War with President Wilson. We wonder if the same law would be enforced if Herbert Hoover was president during war time and he left Washington to go to New York to dictate just who he wanted the Republican State Convention to nominate for governor. If the newspaper would say Hoover was running the New York Republican Convention along with his war duties, would the Democratic press suppress the story or give it wide publicity? A fine topic for editorial comment with the Democratic press.

The New Deal received a heavy jolt when it failed to defeat Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel for renomination on the cry he had been an isolationist. The Sen. defeated former governor James V. Allread in the primary. O'Daniel won his seat by a spectacular campaign under the banner "pass the biscuits pappy." He is a former flour salesman and knows how to clown. Texas will not be outdone and intends to hold a place in the New Deal sun with only first class performers in the Roosevelt-Henderson burlesque. Judge Allread resigned his seat in federal court to make the race just to give the Senator opposition. Even Democratic states refuse to follow the New Deal cry of "isolation." It reminds one of the street outburst of the thief that grabbed the woman's pocketbook and running away shouted, "Stop Thief!"

HERE'S A WAY TO BUY THE GAS
APPLIANCES YOU'LL WANT IN THE FUTURE
...at 25% Discount!

Buy United States War Bonds and Stamps.

Buy them out of income every week. This money, mobilized now for war will be available to you for peace-time purchases. Every bond and stamp that you buy will be an investment in VICTORY. At the same time it will be like making installments on the things you'll want to purchase and enjoy after Victory. For example, you'll have savings with which to purchase gas servants to bring you comfort and leisure—a gas range, refrigerator, or water heater. Every $3 invested now in War Bonds and Stamps will be worth $4 after the war. That's the same as being able to secure a 25% discount on the cost of the appliances you'll want when they become available again.

WHAT TO DO IN AN AIR RAID

5. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS

Glass shatters easily, so stay away from windows.

Don't go to windows and look out, in an air raid. It is a dangerous thing, and helps the enemy. The Air Raid Warden is out there watching for you. Again we say, get off the street if planes come over.

At night, there is danger of being caught in blast from explosives.

Antiaircraft fire means falling shrapnel. You are safe from it indoors, away from windows. It's more important to shell a plane than it is to see it from a window. Do not say we are repeating; we would rather repeat until we bore you than have you forget.

Stay in your room, away from windows. That is the safest place. Go there at the first alarm; stay there until the all clear. Above all, keep calm. Stay home. Put out lights. Lie down. Stay away from windows.

You can do all those things without any special equipment, other than what you have now in your home.

You can help kill the Japs, with your bare hands, if you will do just those few, simple things.

Be a good fellow and follow instructions and keep well.

Do not be a wise guy and get hurt.

Mrs. Welburn has been suffering from a nervous breakdown and was bedfast. She was carried to an automobile and taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Toywisley. Thursday she was returned home and is to remain in bed under orders of her physician. The loss is covered by insurance.

659 votes and is therefore the Democratic nominee. His only opponent, Carl H. Ehl, of Clark County, received 2,633 votes.

No one should overlook the future political importance of the New York State Democratic Convention held last Thursday, at which time Attorney General Bennett, candidate of James A. Farley, was nominated for Governor over Senator Meade, supported by President Roosevelt. The real fight in the Convention was not over the gubernatorial candidate, but for control of the Democratic Party in New York State, and especially of the ninety-four delegates to the 1944 Democratic National Convention. "Sunny Jim" Farley, who twice directed successful campaigns for President Roosevelt and for eight years was Postmaster General, is now in undisputed and supreme control of the Democratic party in the State of New York. Close observers of political affairs will keep this in mind as the 1944 Convention and Presidential election approaches.

In a press conference last week, Secretary of War Stimson was evidently thinking of matters political when he said: "A uniform should not be used to cover a man's ambitions or to represent him as one who risks his life for this country, when there is little possibility he will be called upon to fight." Secretary Stimson also discussed the appointment of Army officers direct from civilian life and stated he considered it one of his foremost duties to make certain that Army officers are chosen solely for merit and for the effective performance of their duties. There has been considerable criticism recently of the high number of Army officers commissioned directly from civilian life without training or military experience. It was undoubtedly in an effort to meet this criticism that the Secretary pointed out he was unable to give personal attention to such appointments, and that he was therefore naming a board of five retired Army officers, under the direction of General Marlin D. Craig, former Chief of Staff, to represent him in connection with the procurement of officers.

JACOB SEEKS GOD'S HELP

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 27:1-29. GOLDEN TEXT—God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.—Psalm 46:1.

"O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home."
—Isaac Watts.

How true it is that "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." Jacob found it so, even though his trouble came upon him because of his own misdeeds. God had prospered him at Haran, but in due time he was led by circumstance and by direct guidance to return to his own land (Gen. 28:10-15). His journey was not without trouble. As he came toward home, however, he recalled the sin which had caused him to flee. He remembered now how he had defrauded Esau and this

I. Guilt Brought Fear (vv. 2-9). It always does. The sinful act of 20 years before now faced Jacob. He had left it behind and had all but forgotten it. He had hoped that the years would cover it, but they did not, and they never do.

"Be sure your sin will find you out" (Num. 32:23)—perhaps not this week or this year, or next; but until it is dealt with and forgiven it is there to rise up and plague you sooner or later.

Jacob's fear was increased by hearing that Esau came out to meet him with 400 men. He tried by his own devices to meet the situation, but ultimately realized that his predicament had reached the point where only God could help him.

How like us, trying everything else until we realize its futility, and then turning to God. How delightfully simplified life becomes when we turn to God first. Yet we are glad that Jacob's

II. Fear Brought Prayer (vv. 9-12).

It was real prayer, too, although, as W. H. Griffith Thomas suggests, it is strange that after his blessed personal experience with God he addressed Him only as the God of his fathers and not his own God (v. 9). Then, too, his faith seemed a bit weak, for it was coupled with great fear (v. 11).

We are told that fear is not a proper motive for turning men to God. Perhaps it is not the highest motive, but both in Scripture and in experience we find it to be true that fear often leads men to God in real repentance and faith. If the goodness and grace of God do not touch man's heart, it is assuredly far better that he should be saved through fear than to be eternally lost.

Jacob, however, needed a further experience of dependence upon God before he could be brought back in peace into the land. He was led to send everyone away so that he was alone when the Lord dealt with him and

III. Prayer Brought Blessing (vv. 27-29).

Jacob, who had by deceit taken the promise from Esau instead of awaiting God's time to give it to him, was now about to attempt another skillful scheme which would have won over Esau and sent Jacob into his land glorying in his own ability. In spite of all God's dealings with him, he was still Jacob the supplanter. So God had to deal with him.

We sometimes think of the grace of God only as that which brings us blessing and joy, but often God is being most gracious and considerate of our real need by sending opposition and hardship.

The divine visitor let Jacob struggle all night, giving him a chance to submit of his own will; but when it was evident that he would not, he was shown that his own strength would not do, for he was made lame (v. 25).

The very thing which made Jacob sure of his own strength became his weakest point at the touch of God. He was not the last one to learn that lesson.

The comment of F. B. Meyer on this entire scene is most helpful: "Note that Jacob did not lay hold of this visitor, but the visitor lay hold of him. This is not a picture of a man coming to God, to wrestle with God in prayer, but a record of God coming to man, to break the spirit of stubbornness and self-sufficiency which a particular man has for too long a time habitually manifested. All night these two wrestled, the one from heaven and the one of earth, and when, at the dawn of day, Jacob saw that he could not prevail against the man, in his exhaustion and weariness he suddenly felt the touch of the stranger's hand on his thigh. Immediately his thigh was out of joint, rendering him absolutely helpless. But now Jacob realized that the one with whom he had wrestled all night was a divine person; and, whereas early in the night he was held in the grip of the other, now he refused to release his grasp of the visitor until he received a blessing from him."
